

GIS Data Links (open source)

Natural Earth: Public domain map dataset featuring tightly integrated vector and raster data

USGS Earth Explorer: Access to one of the largest databases of satellite and aerial imagery

OpenStreetMap: Has some of the most detailed information of our planet and is always updated
- see Wiki on how to download data.

Diva GIS Data: Select and download free geographic (GIS) data for any country in the world

ESRI Open Data: Data that can be freely used, re-used and redistributed by anyone

NASA SEDAC: NASA's Socioeconomic Data and Applications Center (SEDAC) has data involving human interactions with the environment.

Open Topography: Provides a portal to high spatial resolution topographic data and tools.

Sentinel Satellite Data: The European Space Agency's Sentinel satellite is now the highest spatial resolution available to the public for free.

National Institute for Space Research \(INPE\): The partnership between Brazil and China has their own image catalog of remotely-sensed data which lets you download free satellite imagery.

China GIS

Harvard University, Center for Geographic Analysis: China GIS Data

Dr. Gang He GIS data sources: China GIS Data

ESRI China (Hong Kong): Open Geo-Spatial Data in Hong Kong

University of Michigan: China GIS, Maps, and Statistics